CHARLESTOWN & LIMEKILNS 1841 CENSUS

INTRODUCTION

Both Charlestown and Limekilns fall within the Parish of Dunfermline, Fife Parish No: 424 and therefore became enumeration districts within that Parish. In 1841 Charlestown was enumeration district 32 and Limekilns enumeration district 33. It was the responsibility of the General Register Office to conduct the census, from which, individual enumerators would be appointed. For Charlestown, the enumerator was George Blyth; a local School Teacher and for Limekilns the enumerator was R. Manclark; a Merchant. These men; (as at that time only men were given the responsibility) were responsible for visiting every house or dwelling within their respective district, approximately one week prior to the date set for the recording of the census. They would have instructed the head of the house to complete the form on the night of June 6th 1841, giving information on every person within that house on that particular night; this included visitors from outside the Parish, travellers; night workers and lodgers.

Once the enumerator had collected all the household forms and completed others from verbal information where necessary, it was his task to complete the enumeration book for his district. Once completed, each book would be passed to the Register Office for checking.

1841 was not the first census in Scotland, 1801, 1811, 1821 and 1831 were all numerical records, however, 1841 was the first time information was recorded on individuals within a household ie. forename(s) surnames, age, etc. This subsequently gives the family researcher an important aid in the complicated world of family research and also a personal insight into an individual family and employment within the particular area.

The census of Charlestown and Limekilns gives a fascinating insight into the structure of what must have been two busy Fife villages in the early part of the 19th century. Charlestown covers the village and also Broomhall House, Gellet, Hillock, Leckerstone, Gallowridge Hill, Midmill, Merryhill, Meadow End, Craigs, Courthill and Iron Mill. The Limekilns census covers the village itself, along with Pattiesmuir Fairnie Hill, Primrose Farm and Black Hall Farm.

POPULATION

In 1841, Charlestown had 939 people checked through the census, and Limekilns had 949, Pattiesmuir and surrounding area 167. This does not mean, that the population at that time was as stated for each area. The trouble being that Charlestown and Limekilns were sea faring villages and therefore a great many of the men from the village were at sea at the time of the census or simply outside the district (et: working in Dunfermline).

Out of 949 persons checked in Limekilns 379 were males and 570 were females. From this 851 were born within the county and 98 came in from outside Fife. Within the Limekilns area the enumerator noted 290 distinctive families. The Pattiesmuir area had 79 males and 88 females breaking down to 152 locals and 15 outsiders.

Charlestown had 939 persons checked, with 456 being male and 483 being female with the enumerator establishing there to be 193 distinctive families within the village. At the end of book 32, within the schedule, for Charlestown the enumerator has added a note concerning those who were believed to have been absent at the time of the census and the occupation titles that he had grouped together, which were as follows:

	M	F	Total
Computed number of persons who may have slept in barges, boats or other small vessels	72 B	1 B	73
remaining stationary on canals or other inland navigable waters.	45 F		45
	117	1	118

In the above table B signifies British, for those on board British vessels, but as far as I could learn the whole of the 73 B were on board Scottish vessels. F denotes foreigners who were in Charlestown harbour on the night 6th June.

The workmen included in this schedule are divided into 5 classes viz:

1. Mechanics such as Joiners, Smiths, Masons etc.
2. Quarriers and Lime workers are employed, either in quarrying the stones, burning or shipping them.
3. Coal labourers re those employed about the shipping of the coal but are not miners.
4. Common labourers are those employed at any kind of work not connected with the lime or coal.
5. Agricultural labourers are ploughmen, Wagoner etc.

The Charlestown enumeration book was completed by George Blyth and handed into James Rankine on 15 June 1841.

As can be seen from the record, many women were written as being the head of the household, however, those who were in fact widowed were either recorded as belonging for example, Widow Smith or were recorded under their maiden surname with their children below, retaining their father's surname.

Houses checked by the enumerator numbered 256. This would also have included derelict or unoccupied houses any of the aforementioned would have been noted within the first page of the enumeration book.

Remarks of Schoolmaster or other person appointed by the Sheriff or Provost to divide the Parish

The ages of the participants fall within certain brackets, in so far as the age of a child under 15 years was recorded as to their exact age, wherever, anyone from 15 years and over was given as the lowest of the term of five years, e.g.: a 17 year old would have an age recorded as being 15 years, a 33 year old would be recorded as being 30 years old and so on.

The 1841 census unlike the 1851 and following censuses does not include a person's place of birth, but only notes if an individual was born within the county. So don't take for granted everything you read! Mistakes were also made during the recording. After all the enumerators were only human. This can be seen where a male has had his age recorded within the female's age column and vice versa. (Marked on this booklet*)

N = Not born in the county

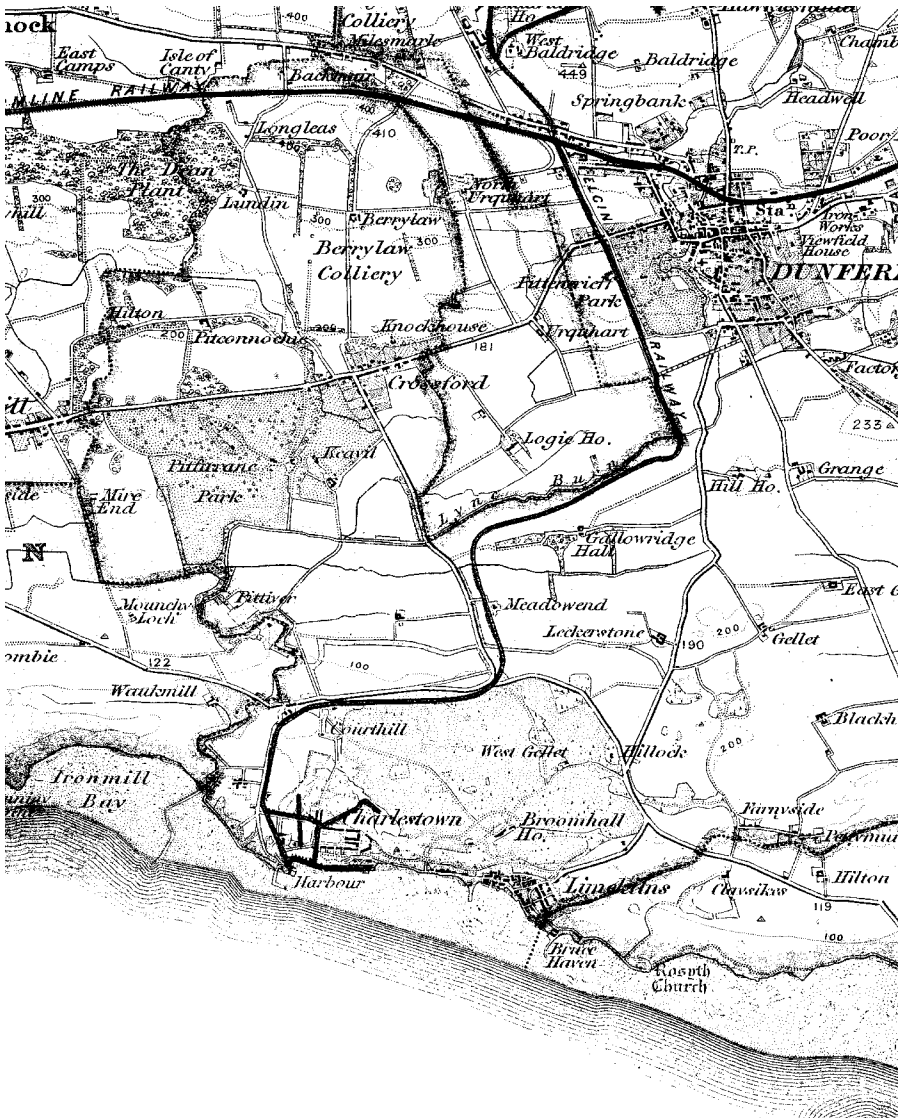

In conclusion the 1841 Census can be of help to the researcher . It shows family groups, at addresses, occupation, ages, or about ages, thus helping the searcher work back into the Old Parish Records. It also shows if individuals were born or not born in the Parish. It helps with finding deaths if they are in the census they will be alive in 1841 and possibly have died between 1841 and 1851, or 1851 and 1861, remember Civil Registration for Births, Marriages and Deaths started in 1855.
